

What is an Administrator?

An administrator is a person or agency who has been appointed with legal authority to manage the estate or make financial decisions on behalf of an adult who lacks capacity to make such decisions because of a disability.

An administrator has a similar role to an enduring power of attorney. This Fact Sheet relates to appointments of administrators by the Board. For more information about enduring powers of attorney, please refer to Fact Sheet 6.

What is the role of an administrator?

If an administrator has been appointed with full powers, the administrator is responsible for the general care and management of the financial affairs of a person with a disability.

An order appointing an administrator will indicate whether an order makes the administrator responsible for the whole estate or only a limited part of the estate.

A administrator cannot make personal (e.g. health care) decisions on behalf of a person with a disability. That is the role of a guardian or a person responsible.

What are the responsibilities of an administrator?

An administrator must:

- Act at all times in the best interests of the person with a disability,
- Encourage and assist that person to become capable of administering his or her estate, and
- Consult with that person, taking into account, as far as possible, his or her wishes

When is an administrator appointed by the Board?

The Board will only appoint an administrator after there has been proof that a person, about whom an application has been made, is:

1. A person with a disability
2. Incapable because of the disability of making reasonable judgments about his or her estate or finances, and
3. In need of an administrator.

The Board must also adhere to the principles in the Guardianship and Administration Act 1995 \(Tas\) which are:

- (a) to adopt the means which is the least restrictive of a person's freedom of decision and action as is possible in the circumstances,
- (b) to promote the best interests of a person with a disability, and
- (c) to carry the wishes of a person with a disability into effect, if possible.

An administrator is generally appointed after a hearing, but in an emergency the Board can appoint the Public Trustee for up to 28 days without a hearing.

Who can be appointed as an administrator?

Before appointment as Administrator a person must meet criteria set out in the Guardianship and Administration Act. If there is no family member or friend who meets those criteria, the Board can appoint the Public Trustee as the administrator for the person. Under an emergency administration order, only the Public Trustee can be appointed.

What happens after an administrator is appointed?

The Board receives annual reports and periodically reviews the appointments of administrators to ensure that the order remains necessary and that the person or agency appointed is meeting their statutory duties. An administrator can seek advice and direction from the Board.

If an administrator is not performing the role appropriately, the Board can review the appointment and appoint an alternative administrator. The Board can also make an administrator personally liable if there are losses to the estate caused by a lack of reasonable care or good faith by the administrator.
